RENTON, Wash., Nov. 15, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- SEKISUI Aerospace, a subsidiary of SEKISUI Chemical, was recently recognized as one of Spirit AeroSystems top 12 suppliers for superior performance at its annual supplier recognition symposium in Wichita, Kansas. SEKISUI Aerospace received the Success Partner award. They based this achievement on the performance of SEKISUI's Pacific Northwest (PNW) facilities focus on quality and delivery to support Spirit's 787 program for environmental conditioning system ducts.

Chris Hessman, General Manager of SEKISUI's PNW sites said, "Our team worked with an unwavering focus to meet our commitments for superior product quality and delivery throughout 2020. The issues ranging from supply chain shortages to addressing adversity generated by the pandemic have made this even more challenging. I am proud of the accomplishments of our team and to be acknowledged by Spirit AeroSystems for this means a lot to our team."

Daniele Cagnatel, CEO and President of SEKISUI Aerospace added, "The recognition by Spirit and the receipt of this award is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the SEKISUI team. When we work together as a supplier with our customer, we can achieve almost anything."
